Let There Be Light
Distant Star, for Sure

IS IS a memorandum to the local district office of the State Highway Department—

confess to a near accident Sun-afternoon at the intersection State Highway No. 4 and the s - road from the Proving road to the municipal airport.

veiling from the SPG to the port where I was going to run a couple of dogs I just missed by being knocked off by a car coming south on No. 4.

recalling that I was driving but hadn't come to an absolutely stop at the intersection, on way back I checked over the way signs there. No. 4 traffic right-of-way, of course. And going into No. 4 from the airport is a big bold stop sign; but being into No. 4 from the Proving road there is — nothing.

road signs don't necessarily tell a good driver, but they are a reminder to the subconscious.

There ought to be a stop sign at each intersection of No. 4 and SPG road—and I mean Now!

addressing the American Society Newspaper Editors in Washington Saturday Senator J. W. Fulbright of Washington drew appeal when he proposed a law to require full publicity for all Reconstruction Finance corporation loans.

ulbright was, of course, speaking right down the newspapers'—
y. But when you see what happens in the absence of publicity—as fully uncovered by the senator's C investigating committee—you appreciate why the founders of our government provided for a free press and the right of that press, normally, to have full access to public records.

That right has from time to time been abridged, with inevitable and, and the also inevitable demand by the public that we return fundamental concepts of American government.

RFC operations, being a branch of the executive department under delegated authority from the congress, have been cloaked in secrecy because any publication supposedly would have been embarassing to individuals. It simply isn't worth it. In secrecy there is no fraud—and sooner or later

Even the congress has committed errors in respect to secrecy.
During the New Deal administration congress forbade publication of state welfare rolls under penalty of cancelling federal aid to any state where publication was permitted. Wherefore, the welfare rolls rise to unprecedented heights and we are living in boom times.

Getting back to the RFC, Fulbright proposes that publication be required as to: (1) Name of applicant for loan; (2) specific project for which the money is wanted; (3) the identity of those supporting the application; and (4) the final disposition of the loan request.

It's a good deal for the people and their tax money.

A weekend press item informs us that the new 200-inch telescope top Mt. Palomar, Cal., largest in the world, has just spotted a galaxy of stars estimated to be 1 million light-years distant from our earth.

How are you on figures? And do you have enough zeroes on your checkbook blotter? Well string along with me and we'll come to an astrometrical answer:

A billion light years . . .
Light travels at approximately $6,000 miles a second. That's at the approximate rate of 6 trillion miles a year. Multiply it by 1 billion and you come up with 6 sex-trillion miles—which is the figure followed by 21 zeroes.

Doesn't mean a thing, does it?
Well, that's 234 quadrillion times the distance around our earth—the

That doesn't mean anything either.
Come to think of it, those stars the astronomers have just discovered could have blacked out almost 1 billion years ago—and still today we would be looking at light from a lighthouse long since gone.

So when you hear some astrophys-icist mention Einstein, and come up with the guess that Einstein's "fourth dimension" must have been Time—which destroys space and our measurement of space—you got to admit this guess is close to the mark.

Maxwell Is Sentenced to Die on June 15

Herman Maxwell, negro convicted three times for rape of a 16-year-old white farm wife, was sentenced to die in the electric chair on June 15. The sentence was handed down by Judge Dexter Bush of Texarkana.

Epidemic Is Sweeping U. S., Millions Caught and There Is No Cure for Spring Fever

New York — (AP) — A great epidemic is sweeping America today. Millions are in its grip. Have you got it?

The symptoms: a dreamy lassitude, a growing feeling of languor, and indifference to labor, a yearning to be elsewhere.

Diagnosis: Spring fever. Cure: There is none. The delirium must run its course.

Who ever wanted to be cured of spring fever anyway? It is a delightful affliction ever invented by nature for the improvement of man.

What is spring fever anyway? The doctors can't define it. A surgeon can't cut it out of you. And even a psychiatrist can't talk you out of it.

It's universal infection. Birds feel it, bees now it, trees enjoy it. And people just wouldn't be the same without it. It usually strikes midway between the rheumatism season and the sunburn time.

Spring fever? It's just a mellowing of the mind. A melting of the icicles of the spirit. A budding of the soul. An alarm clock in the blood saying "wake up, kid. There's a wonderful world around you — and you're alive in it."

It's a bone-deep drunkenness with the pure sweet wonder of being. If you don't feel it in your bones, you don't have real spring fever. You're just lazy, and the nice thing about the intoxication of spring fever is it never leaves a hangover. It never jades; it always exalts.

The only people who worry about spring fever — whom did it ever kill — are mother and bones. The bones fret about it because the hard help just can't make sense of it until the affliction wears off.

Volcano in Hawaii May Erupt

Honolulu, April 23 (AP) — A strong earthquake on the big island of Hawaii Sunday prompted speculation today that Kilauea volcano may erupt after 10 years of slumber.

A 6.5 magnitude quake shook the island at 1:30 p. m. (7:30 a. m. HST). It was the largest quake in Hawaii since 1925.

Dr. Thomas A. Jaggar, geologist, said the quake was moving toward the island's largest rift zone, where a major crack runs for 10 miles.

DOROTHY DIX Philandering Wife

Dear Miss Dix: We have been married more than fifteen years and up to two years ago lived a happy, companionable life. My wife has worked, holding a very good position. She is 41 years old and has fallen in love with a young man in his early twenties whom she partially or wholly supports, as he is out of work. He drinks and gambles. His charm seems to be that he is free with compliments and flattery and takes her around to places of amusement, where she pays the bill. I asked this boy, if I gave my wife a divorce, if he would marry her, but he refused to answer. My wife repeatedly tells me to get out, but inasmuch as I have done nothing to disrupt our home I feel that it is not my place to go. I still love her and am willing to forget the past and start anew, but this is not what she seems to want. What shall I do?

Robert at the April meeting of the Melrose Home Demonstration Club. The hostess, Mrs. Willie Beard, had charge of the devotional. During the business meeting a dozen pair knit pants were turned in to be given to the Arkansas Crippled Children's Home at Little Rock. Amateur Night was discussed with play.

Leaders reports were given by Mrs. J. W. Still and Mrs. Willie Beard. Following the meeting an $7.25. The surprise package was won by Mrs. Jewell Still and the game prize was won by Mrs. H. E. Patterson.

The hostess served delicious refreshments to 11 members and 3 visitors.

woman falls in love with a boy and makes a fool of herself over him there should be some sort of a padded cell in which she could be locked up until she regains her sanity. Unfortunately, there is nothing that can be done to keep them from wrecking their lives and bringing shame and sorrow down upon their silly heads. You just simply have to let them go their own way to destruction. Which is pretty hard on the husband if he happens to love the philandering wife and isn't so disgusted with her conduct that he is glad to be rid of bad rubbish.

A Revolting Sight
An old man trailing after a girl young enough to be his daughter is a sad enough spectacle. But a woman in love with a boy young enough to be her son is a sight at which the angels must weep — and gag.

Of course, in the end she gets her punishment. Sooner or later she gets tired of faking emotion he does not feel, of telling flattering lies that feed her vanity, and she finds out that he has some girl of his own age that he is spending her money upon.

It is worse still if she marries him because the little flame of passion soon dies and then she is bored to tears with a boy with whom she has nothing in common, and weary of death of trying to keep up with him and keep him amused. It is always a misfortune for both men and women to marry out of their age class, but it is doubly disastrous to the woman who does so.

Dear Miss Dix: I am a girl of 18 and miserably unhappy. My problem is this: My mother is ordinarily a nice, understanding person, but when it comes to my wearing make-up, she absolutely refuses to allow anything but a light lipstick. I am now going with a boy who cares a great deal for me, and he likes me to wear pancake, eye make-up, etc. Though I am quite sure he'll like me with or without make-up, I'd like to make him feel proud of me when we go out.

Answer: You are overemphasizing a very simple problem. Your mother realizes that nothing on earth is lovelier than a teenage girl, and your beauty needs very little further adornment.

The day when you'll need powder and paint to touch up fading features will come soon enough, so follow your mother's advice and proudly flaunt the glow of youth which needs no artificial touch.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I am a man 37 years of age, unhappily married. I have two children. Occasionally I ask women friends to accompany me to dinner and to the theatre. One of them who is single and 29 years old refuses to accept my invitations on the ground that she has no right to let a married man spend his money on her. The relationship between us is simply friendship. Has she any legitimate basis for refusing to accompany me to a restaurant or to the theatre provided she desires to do so?

JOE
Answer: It isn't so much a matter of ethics as it is of propriety. The young woman shows herself to be very level-headed when she declines to go out with you. As long as you are not divorced you are the property of your wife and no other woman interferes with her rights at her peril. The world invariably believes the worst of a girl who accepts the attentions of a married man, and no one can do so without being gossipable about.

As to comfort, Windsor brings you the amazing travel bonus all Chrysler owners get this year : : the revolutionary new Oriflow shock absorber. With more than twice the shock-absorbing power of any other in the world, this amazing new device keeps wheels steady on the road, and riders steady in their seats!

As you can see, it is no idle claim that this car makes very special sense in these unusual times. But why not get the whole good story at first hand? Why not go see your Chrysler Dealer, very soon?
